Bertie: Oh, hey!

Annie: What . . .

Annie: WHAT IS THIS?!

Bertie: Lemonade, silly.

Bertie: Duhhh!

Annie: . . .

Annie: Bertie . . .

Annie: The lemonade is GREEN.

Bertie: You were always the smart one, Annie!

Annie: Bertie, WHY IS THE LEMONADE GREEN!

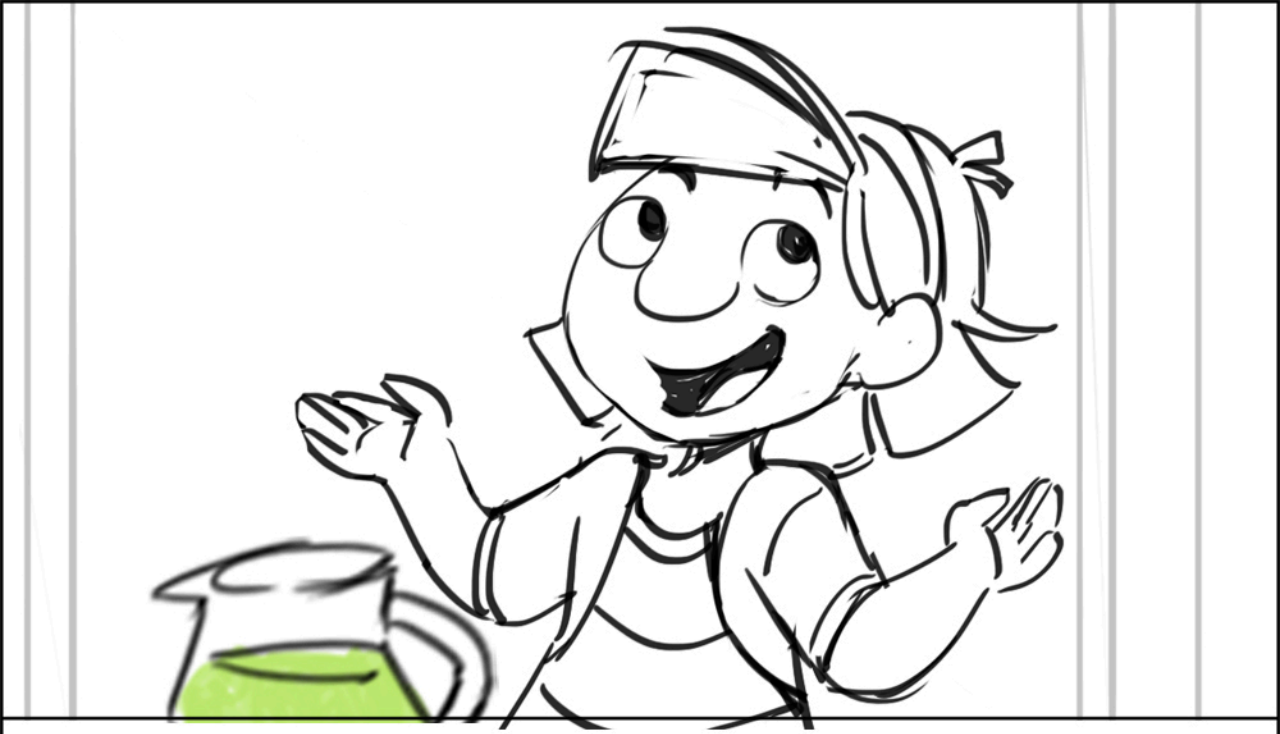
Bertie: Why NOT?! That's the question.



I figured oh sure, you can get boring ol' yellow lemonade anywhere. Why not be a little different?

Bertie: Actually, I was trying to turn it blue, but when I dropped the blue food coloring in...

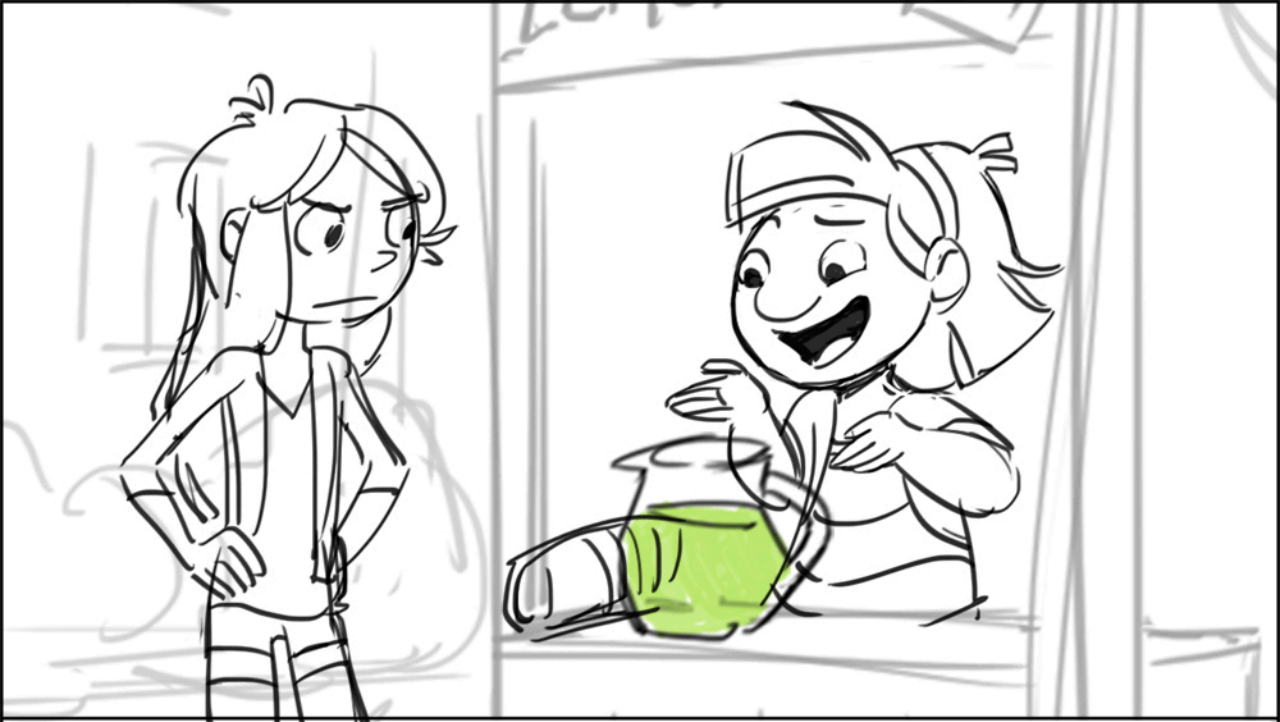
Bertie: . . . y’know . . .

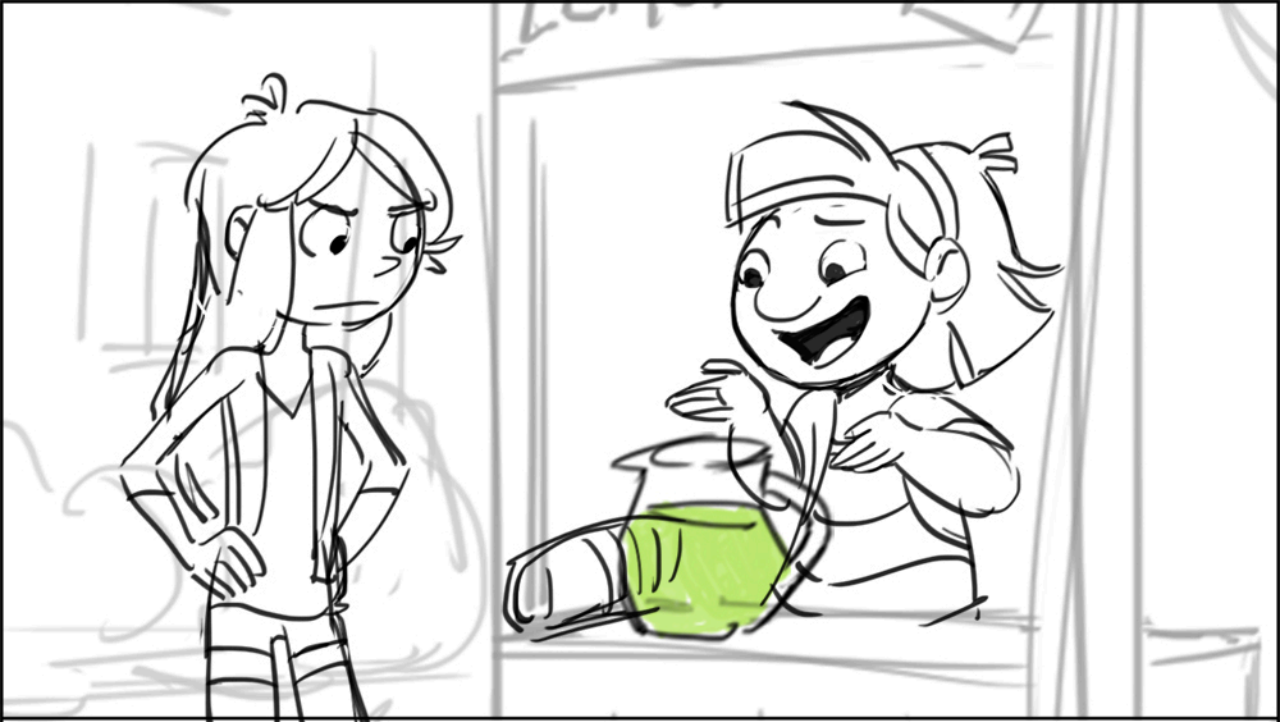
Bertie: . . . y’know . . .

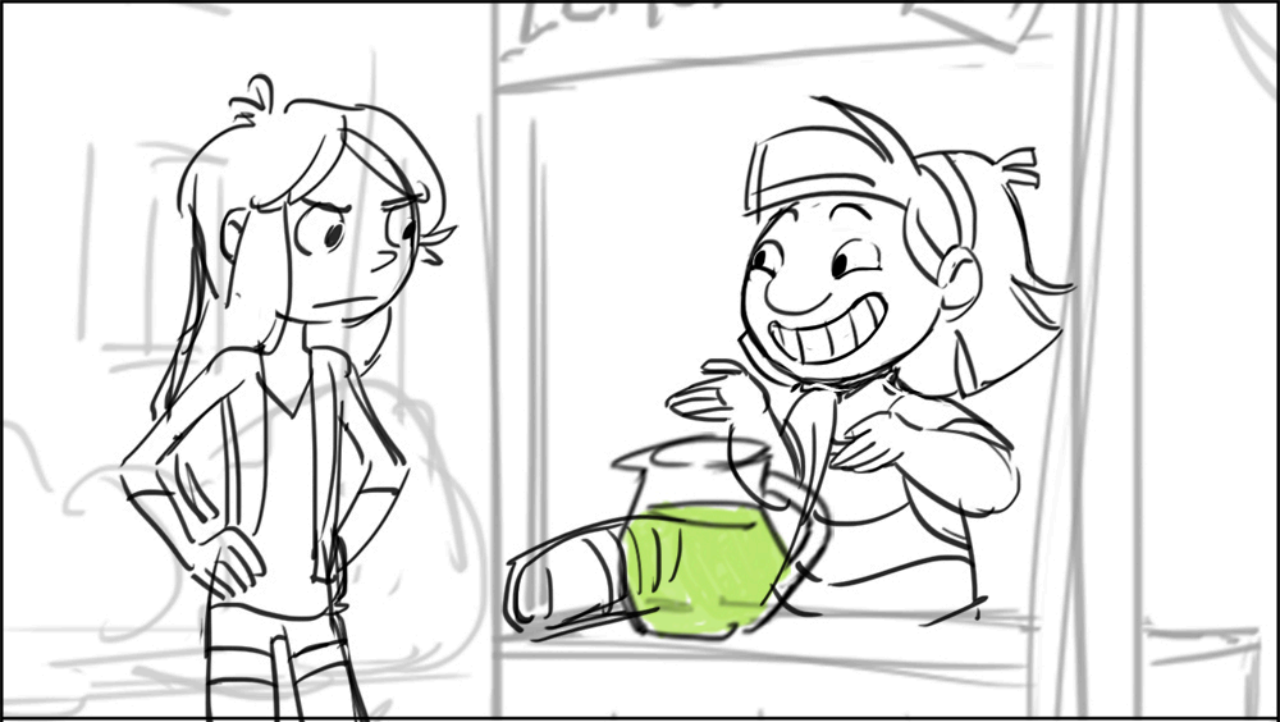
Bertie: I mean -

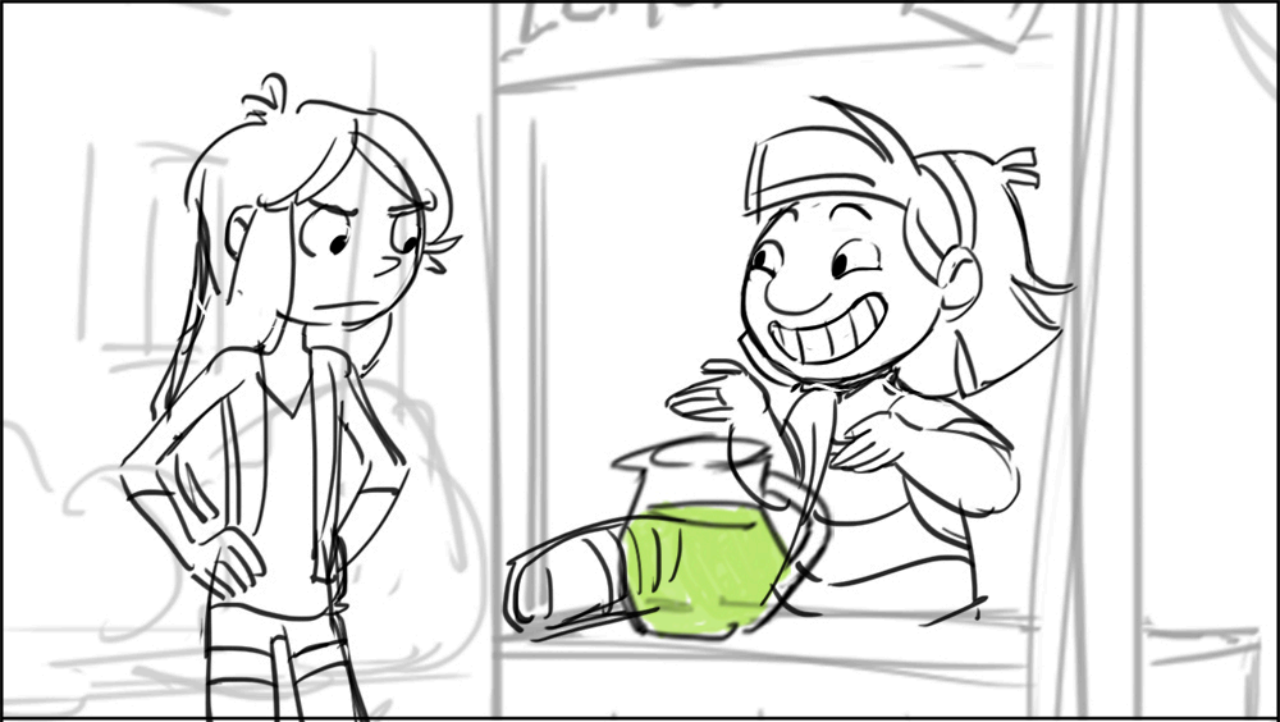
Bertie: DUH, right?!



Bertie: Blue and yellow, what was I thinking? Hahaha!



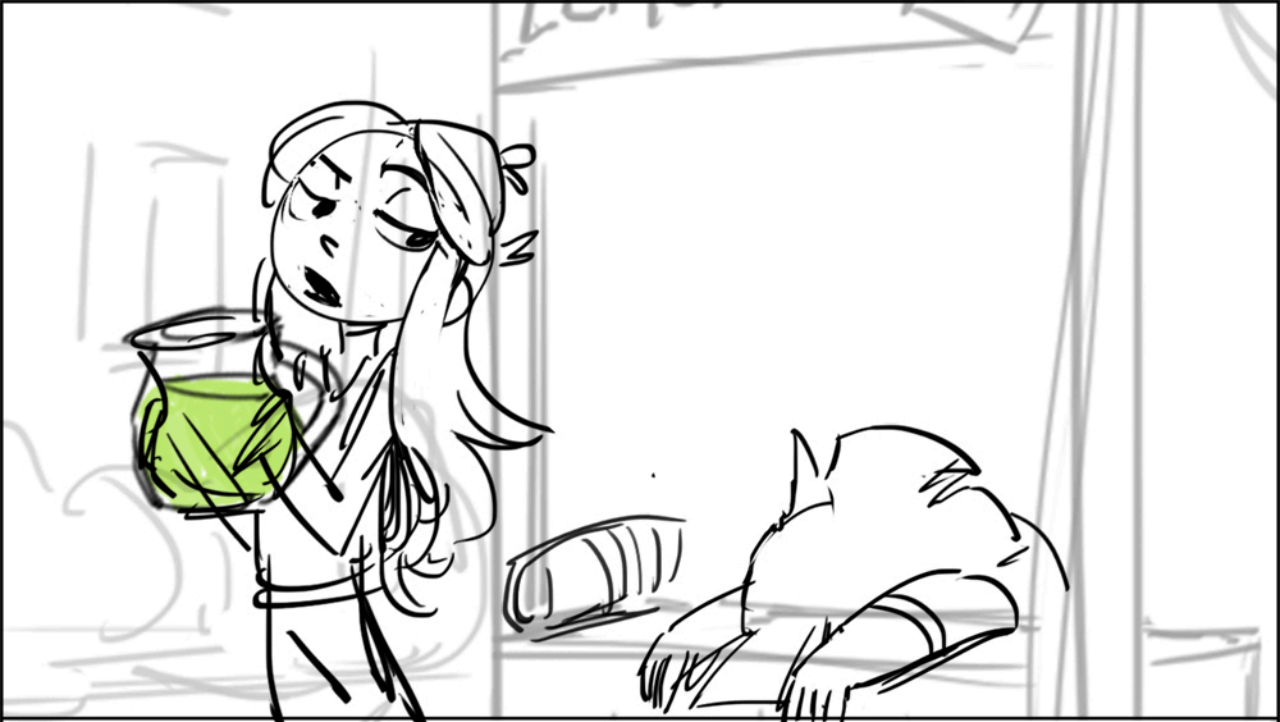




BERTIE: What're you doing?!

ANN: This is gross, Bertie. It looks like snot!

BERTIE: It does not!  I'D buy it!



Annie: But YOU don't have any money.

Annie: That's why we set up a lemonade stand in the first place!

What is it with you -

- and doing things -

- a little differently now and then? -

Oooh, my name is Annie, there's no such thing as green lemonade, the very idea offends my moral code!

SFX: Gasp!

Well, at least I don't go out of my way to be different just so I can pretend to be better than everyone else!

You’re riiiiight.

I should just pretend to be better than everyone else, anyway.

Then I'd be JUST LIKE *YOU!

Bertie: Hey mister!

Bertie: Would you like to buy a cup of GREEN lemonade?

Dude: No way, little missy.

Dude: I’m just going to my mailbox and -

Dude: Wait. Did you just say . . .

Dude: GREEN lemonade?

Dude: As in . . .

Dude: . . . NOT yellow?

Annie: Pfft. I know.

Annie: that's what I was telling her—

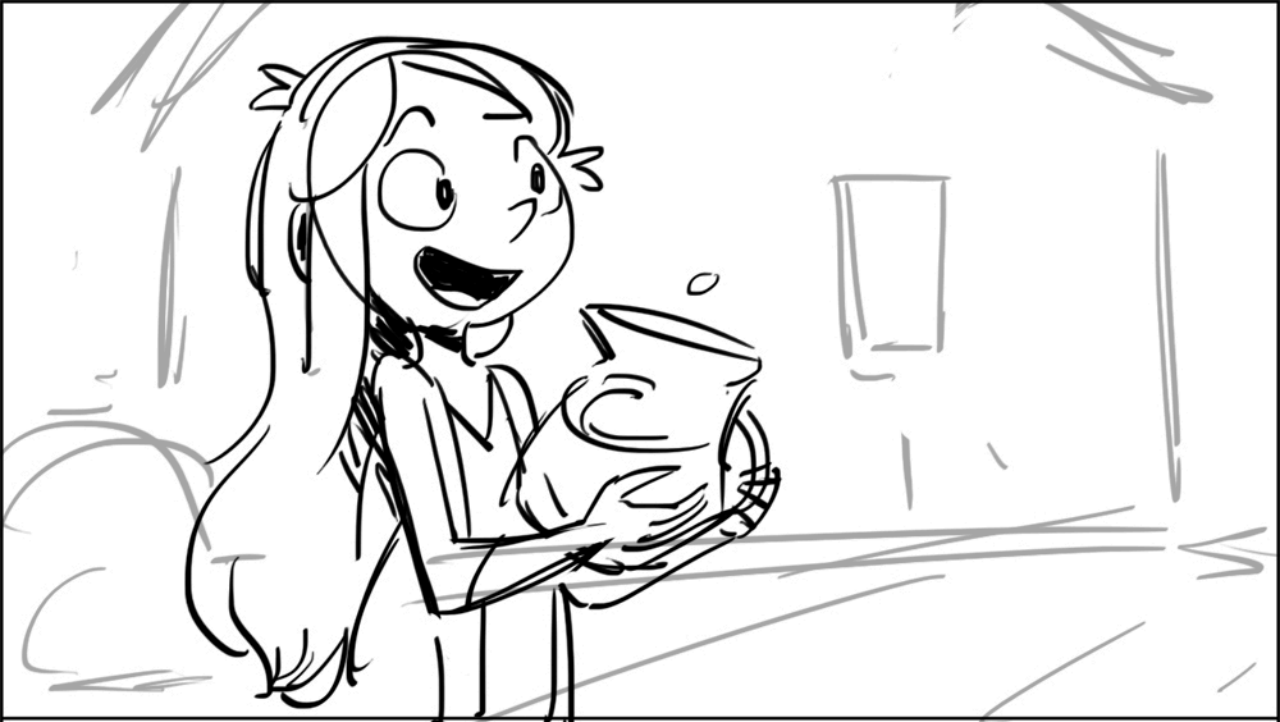
Dude: Hey now, that's pretty original!
Come to think, I am a little parched.

Annie: Uhh..



Annie: Well, you're just in luck, sir! As our first customer, we're also throwing in a ten percent discount!

Dude: Hey, that IS lucky!

Dude: Hmm, so that'll make it . . .

Annie: Forty-five cents, please.

Dude: Wow, that's a STEAL!
Bertie: Thank you, sir!

Dude: This is good! Hey, I might stop by on my way back!

Dude: Green lemonade? Hah!
What'll they think of next?
